THE SPIRE

April 2025

It was a beautiful day. Well at least it was as long as you dressed appropriately for the cold. Liam and Sara were busy, and Barb was asking if we could go on the rail trail. With nothing we had to do for the first Saturday in a while I figured why not. So we set off, Barb on her bike, and me on my the task. It usually take deliberate action or a contwo feet. Needless to say we had an issue right off the bat. I wasn't as fast walking as Barb was biking. I know that last statement might be an expected reality. And it was one that I had expected. But not Barb.

Every time that she would get ahead she would stop her bike, set it in the middle of the path and sit on the bench waiting for me to catch up. But then we turned on the newer trail that runs all the way to Washington Ave across from Ulster Savings. After sitting on one bench for what ones who have fallen behind. What do we do? I am sure had felt for her a while, she asked me if I How do we help them? could hurry up. I told her that I was going as fast as I could, and reminded her that I had tweaked my knee earlier in the week and it wasn't guite where it should be. Cue the roll of the eyes. I even suggested that she ride forward and then circle back to me. The calls to speed up and move faster came more and more frequently, to the point that I started to wonder if she would willingly go on the trail with me again, unless I had a bike.

When we walk together, when we journey with one another the reality is that we all move at our own speed. Being 6'1" my pace is not the same as my brother, or either of my sisters. But also being 45 means my pace is not the same as Liam or Barbs either. Some of us move faster and some of us move slower, there are innumerable factors which can speed us up or slow us down.

One of the challenges when moving as a group, moving together is what we do when one or some of us lag behind. I've seen groups that just press on or leave everyone else in the dust, not out of malice but out of a drive to complete scious choice for everyone to slow down or adjust to the slowest persons pace.

A hard thing for us to grapple with is that not all of us are in the same place with our faith. Some of us are way out front, some of us are in a clump in the middle, and some are lagging way behind. Now we could analyze and go over the various ways in which those who are lagging can be caught up. But moments like this say more about the rest of the group than it does about the

The challenge as the church is for us to remember how different our faith walks are. How varied and circuitous they may be or have been. Paul writes in in Romans in the midst of his conversation about foods, and care for those who are weaker in faith "but resolve instead never to put a stumbling-block or hindrance in the way of another." It isn't about how fast or far our faith journey travels. It's about how much we can care for those on their journey as well. Blessings and peace this April.

Rejoice in the Resurrection, knowing that through our belief in the risen Christ, one day, Tesus will take our hand and lead us home. Happy Easter!!!

Please come visit, feel the peace and serenity.

Our Mission for April will be Hudson Valley National Center for Veteran Reintegration. Their mission is to provide support for both our current military personnel while they are back home and our veterans by assisting them with their transition back into civilian life. HVNCVR offers programs that serve every aspect of this – such as our career/employment transition programs, financial literacy strategies, classes in social reintegration, and substance abuse assistance.

In the basket we will collect flour and sugar for Bread of Life.

Thank you for helping to support this worthy program in our community.
